HALLOWEEN

Precedes Two Great Festivals of the Roman Catholic Church.

All Saints Day Will Be Celebrated Tomorrow.

The Faithful Departed Will Be Remembered on Monday.

SERVICES AT CATHOLIC GRAVEYARDS

Today is Halloween, tomorrow will be All Saints' day and Monday will be All Souls' day. The greatest of these days is All Saints' day, the day set apart by the Catholic church for the veneration of all the saints. This feast is a holy day of obligation. Today, the vigil of the feast of all saints, is a feast day, as are the vigils of all the great feasts of the church. Halloween, or the Eve of All Hallowes, as it was formerly known, has come to be celebrated the world over as an occasion of playing games, trying your luck in forecasting husbands, wives, etc. Each country has its own peculiar games and customs on this night. It has been made famous in prose and poetry, but outside the Catholic church the real celebration has been lost sight of.

As Catholics prepared for Christmas, for the feast of the Circumcision, Ascension day and other great holidays by observing the vigils with prayer and fasting, so did they prepare for the feast of All Saints. It is the day on which all of God's chosen are honored by the faithful all over the world. There are only 365 days in the year, while the saints are numbered by the thousands and tens of thousands. There are not enough days in the calendar to devote one day to each, hence it became necessary to set apart a day for the veneration of all.

All Souls day is the day set apart by the church for praying for the repose of the souls of all the faithful departed. Many have been killed in battle, drowned on the high seas, or have perished in the wilderness, who have none to pray for them. On this day the faithful not only pray for their own dead, but for the repose of all who died in the faith. In addition to attending mass it is the custom in many countries to visit the graveyards and adorn the graves of the dead with flowers and evergreens. In the majority of cases a priest accompanies the people and recites the prayers for the faithful departed.

In Louisville the day will be observed by the celebration of requiem masses in all the churches and during the day the people will visit St. Louis' and St. Michael's cemeteries and decorate the graves of their dead. As tomorrow is the eve of All Souls' day and likewise All Saints' day and Sunday, many Catholics will visit the cemeteries for the purpose of decorating the graves instead of on the following day. No formal ceremonies will be observed at the local Catholic cemeteries.

Tonight the usual customs of ducking for apples, walking down the cellar backwards with mirror and candle in hand and trusting to see future husbands will be observed by the young folks. An old Irish custom frequently observed in this country is to conceal in a huge dish of mashed potatoes a wedding ring, a thimble and a button. Then the potatoes are divided among those assembled. The one who gets the ring is sure to be married first; the one who gets the thimble will remain an old maid, and the young man who gets the button will be an old bachelor.

SISTER RAYMONDA

Victim of Paralysis Removed to St. Catherine's Academy.

Sister Raymonda, of the Dominican order, who was stricken with paralysis several weeks ago, was removed to St. Catherine's Academy, Springfield, Ky., on Tuesday, and fears for her recovery are entertained.

Sister Raymonda is sub-prioress of St. Catherine's Convent near Springfield. She is about sixty-four years old and has been a member of the Dominican order nearly forty years. In the world she was a Miss Meagher and was a sister of the late Father Raymond Meagher, O. P. Another sister, Sister Josephine, also of the Dominican order and connected with the convent at Springfield, Ill., was visiting Sister Raymonda when she was stricken with paralysis. Sister Raymonda is favorably known in Louisville, having been connected for years with the Holy Rosary Academy and St. Louis Bertrand's parochial school. Her speedy recovery is wished for by her many friends.

WORTHY CAUSE.

The Pastime Drill Company will give a euchre at Pabst's Hall, Eighteenth and Kentucky streets, on the evening of Wednesday, November 11. A number of handsome and useful prizes will be awarded. A general good time will be enjoyed after the euchre.

FAMILIAR FIGURE

John Hourigan, an aged and respected citizen of Louisville, died at the family residence, 1526 Lytle street, early Wednesday morning. Mr. Hourigan had suffered from a complication of diseases during the past seven weeks, so that his death was not unexpected. He died surrounded by the members of his family and fortified by the sacraments of the church. The deceased was one of Louisville's most familiar figures. He had a pleasant word for all, and always appeared to be in good humor.

Mr. Hourigan was born in the County Limerick, Ireland, sixty-four years ago. He came to America when quite a youth and had resided in Louisville about forty years. During the last thirty-four years he lived in the house where he died. He was engaged as a hackman during the greater part of his life in Louisville, and few funerals were complete without John Hourigan and his carriage. He had an acquaintance in every part of the city and knew all the City Hall and Court House officials during the last twenty-five years. All had a good word for him and he repaid them in kind. It was particularly noticeable that when passing a Catholic church he was never too busy with his team to neglect to raise his hat. He was one of those good faithful souls who brought his faith from Ireland and cherished it as he did his life.

The deceased leaves a widow and four children, three sons and one daughter. The sons are Patrick, Hugh and John, Jr. The daughter is Miss Maggie Hourigan. He also leaves a brother, Patrick Hourigan, an employee of the Louisville Packing Company, and three sisters, Mrs. Ryan, of Nashville, and Sisters Charlett and Charlesetta of the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth.

His funeral, which took place from St. Patrick's church Friday morning, was attended by hundreds who knew and respected him.

GREAT SUCCESS

Attended the Mission to Non-Catholics at St. Philip Neri's.

St. Philip Neri's church was filled twice last Sunday, when the Rev. Father Edwin Drury opened a mission that continued all week and will close tomorrow. Father Drury is the diocesan missionary to non-Catholics and has met with great success in his work during the past four or five years. His sermons are a simple exposition of the doctrines of the Catholic church. The mission at St. Philip Neri's was intended primarily for non-Catholics, though Catholics were welcomed and expected to attend. During the week Father Drury spoke three times each day, twice in the morning and once in the evening. All of the exercises were well attended.

Father Drury was ably assisted by the Rev. Dr. Ackerman, pastor of St. Philip Neri's church. Father Ackerman is one of our young priests, but has succeeded in establishing a thriving congregation, where a few years ago there was a wilderness. The mission has proven a great benefit to the congregation and a source of satisfaction to both pastor and missionary.

GOOD ATTENDANCE

Is Desired at Monthly Euchre of Catholic Women's Club.

The regular monthly euchre will be given at the Catholic Women's Club, 315 West Walnut street, on Wednesday afternoon and evening, when ladies and gentlemen are cordially invited to be present. Refreshments will be served during the afternoon and evening. Tickets will be on sale at the door. The afternoon game will be between 3 and 5 o'clock.

The Catholic Women's Club is meeting with success in every department and should continue to receive the support of the people. These monthly euchres are usually given on the first Tuesday in each month, but as next Tuesday is election day it was deemed wise to hold this one on Wednesday in order to allow the gentlemen interested to watch the election returns. Hereafter the euchres will be resumed on the first Tuesdays.

CATHOLIC FEDERATION.

The Jefferson County Federation of Catholic Societies will hold its regular meeting at Hibernian Hall next Friday night, November 6. A full attendance is desired as business of importance is to be transacted. At this meeting the Executive Committee, which has in charge the arrangements for the euchre to be held at Liederkreis Hall on Thursday night, November 19, will report to the Federation the progress thus far made.

BRANCHING OUT.

John M. Mulloy, the coffee dealer, will open a new store on State street, between Main and Market, New Albany, today. The new Albany store will be an exact counterpart of Mr. Mulloy's tea, coffee and spice emporium at 214 West Market street in this city. Mr. Mulloy invites the citizens of New Albany to call and inspect his new place.

YOUR STATE'S GOOD

Demands That You Vote For Capable and Creditable Men For Legislative, Judicial and Executive Officers Next Tuesday.

Study Well The Party Records in Order That You May Do All Within Your Power to Avert a Threatened Calamity.

Views of Leading Citizens, Who Coincide With the Kentucky Irish American in Supporting the Democratic Candidates.

The Kentucky Irish American has at all times striven to hold aloof from politics as far as possible, leaving that to the judgment of the people. At the same time it has ever been our endeavor to say a kind word for Irishmen and Irish-Americans, regardless of their political convictions. The Kentucky Irish American desires to advocate the best interests of its thousands of readers and it has found that their interests are best subserved at this time by the Democratic party. It may be asked how is such a conclusion arrived at? Because the Democratic party is the party of all the people and class legislation has no place within its policy. It aims at the betterment of conditions for all. It never has sought to benefit or enrich the few at the expense of the many, and while its leaders have often disagreed as to the methods of attaining the best results, their honesty of purpose has never been impugned. Religious liberty is one of the cardinal principles of Democracy, while religious intolerance has been fostered by the Republican party.

True Democracy accords to the Irish, German or Italian immigrant who obeys the laws of the State and nation the same privileges that is given the native American. It gives to the children of the poor the same education it gives to the rich. It gives the day laborer an equal right with the rich man in making the laws. The Democratic party does not believe in government by injunction and it has not opposed labor unions. That the Kentucky Irish American is not alone in considering the Democratic party the party of the people at this time and its nominees representative and trustworthy men is evinced by the following interviews with representative men of our own race, manufacturers, lawyers and merchants and these are only a few of many who hold the same views:

Capt. Frank Hagan, the veteran attorney and Democrat, said to our reporter: "The Democratic ticket ought to be elected because it represents all the most liberal ideas of modern civilization, and because it advocates an extended commerce with all nations and thereby gives a better market for our commodities and secures better and steadier wages for our laborers. Now that the machine producing nations—England, France and Germany—are making great efforts to secure the trade of peoples who do not use machinery, but want its products, requires us to liberalize our tariff schedules and navigation laws in order to compete with them, which the Republican party refuses to do, and which the Democrats will do. We should elect the Democratic ticket of judges because they are upright, good and pure men, capable, learned, competent, fitting and experienced, and because there is likely to come before them new questions of vast importance concerning labor strikes, corporations, trusts and other like modern questions, and we will feel safer with men on the bench of Democratic training and Democratic thinking to decide them. A Democratic Governor will have the aid of the best and most advanced sentiment in the State, will secure more harmony among the people and will better represent the law-abiding, educated and conservative classes, while a Republican Governor will be unfortunate in being supported by a large number of law-breakers and the illiterate element, and consequently will be compelled to act as to bring discontent, confusion and perhaps disaster to the State."

William T. Meehan, State Secretary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, said: "I intend to vote the whole Democratic ticket for several reasons—because I know the present Democratic candidates believe and practice liberty of conscience; because they are men of business, honest, intelligent and not affiliated with any dark lantern societies. As opposed to the Democratic candidates are the Republican nominees, and I ask our people what representatives of the Republican party did to the memory of Thomas Moore in Washington a few years ago? What was done to the memory of Robert Emmet by Republican leaders in our own city a few weeks ago? If they will do and say mean things of dead men before the election, what will they not do to the living after they are in power?"

Thomas Walsh, the well known attorney, said: "I think the Democratic ticket ought to be elected this fall because better men for the judiciary could not be found than those put before the people by the party in this city. They are true and tried, having proved their ability, integrity and impartiality in the past. It is extremely important for the interests of the people of this city that they have an able, unbiased and honest judiciary. On account of his splendid management of State affairs Gov. Beckham ought to be endorsed by the people and re-elected. I am glad to see the Kentucky Irish American take an interest in this matter."

Judge Matt O'Doherty said: "The people of Kentucky can never sufficiently repay Gov. Beckham for the services which he rendered to the State in the day of her bitterest trial. A condition of anarchy or worse existed at the State capital after the assassination of Gov. Goebel. The State was in fact sleeping over a mine which a spark might at any instant explode when the reins of government passed into the hands of a young and then inexperienced Lieutenant Governor. No one who loved the fair name of his State or the prosperity of its people could contemplate unmoved the conditions which then prevailed and their possible outcome. A slight mistake on his part would at that time have plunged the State into the throes of civil war, which would have meant the sacrifice of hundreds of human lives. Taylor, with his mountain militia, retained possession and control of the executive buildings and offices in Frankfort after the courts of the State had declared he was without title thereto. From that moment Taylor and his militia were insurgents and might legally have been treated as such. Beckham, however, unlike Taylor, counseled peace, patience and an appeal to the civil courts of the State. His counsel prevailed and Kentucky was saved immeasurable disgrace and untold loss. Kentuckians are not ungrateful and they do not and can not forget the service rendered to the State in the darkest hour of her history by the youngest Governor she has ever had. His administration from first to last has been without stain or blemish. But entirely apart from his merits, the blunders, to use no severer term, of his political opponents should insure his triumphant election and that of the entire Democratic ticket. The nomination of Mr. Belknap over Mr. Augustus E. Willson as standard bearer of the Republican party was without doubt one of the greatest scandals that has ever disgraced this or any other State. The fact is undeniable that Belknap's nomination was made solely for 'business reasons,' and the business reasons were these, simply that he was supposed to have a barrel of money and that Sapp and his followers would have charge of it on election day. No honest Republican will try to hide the fact from his eyes. He can not do so. Willson, a man of sterling integrity, of unblemished character, with more than thirty years' faithful party service and party record behind him, was at Sapp's bidding ordered to the rear and 'the sun was given to Belknap.' To use Gov. Bradley's language, and just because he cried for it. The Governor put it mildly when he said that the man in the moon would thereafter place a handkerchief over his nostrils while passing over Louisville. But Sapp's activity and success in the Republican convention have a far wider meaning for all good citizens. His methods and his history are equally notorious. That a 'reform candidate,' such as Mr. Belknap pretends to be, should have Sapp for his parent or patron should satisfy every thinking man who does not wish to be deceived. The local Democratic ticket is composed of men of high character. The gentlemen named for Judges of our courts are above reproach and are too well known to need commendation from me to the readers of the Kentucky Irish American. I wish to say most emphatically that no voter can afford to scratch or overlook a single one of them."

James B. Kelly, State President of the Young Men's Institute, said: "The election of the Democratic ticket, both State and local, insures to our people a continuation of the policies and measures which is winning back the prestige that was lost during the Bradley, Taylor and Todd regimes. Gov. Beckham has wiped out the State debt, quelled disturbances with marked ability and secured to the citizens of the State peace and order. Mayor Grainger and his co-laborers have given us an able and progressive administration of affairs which is indicated by the rapid growth of our city in the past two years. Believing that the election of the Democratic ticket will result in the greatest good to our people, it shall receive my heartiest endorsement."

Joe Dongherly, the coal merchant, said: "I am for the Democratic ticket because individually and collectively it comprises men with whose records, personally or officially, no flaw can be found. The majority of them have been tried and not found wanting."

Emmet P. Slattery, one of the most promising of our young attorneys, said: "I believe the Democratic nominees should be elected because they are the most capable men offering for office at the coming election, men who have had experience in the management of public affairs, and who have proven themselves worthy of the confidence of every citizen. The wise management of the State's business by the present Democratic officials should be approved by the voters and the scurrilous attacks upon our local courts, composed of honest and capable men, by the Republican press and candidates, should receive the condemnation of all those citizens who desire to protect the dignity and honor of our judiciary. The people approve the stand taken in this campaign by the Kentucky Irish American."

Peter Cosgrove, another able young lawyer and staunch Democrat, says: "I do not believe that a stronger or better ticket could be offered than that which will appear on next Tuesday under the Democratic emblem. In the judgeship races we find men whose professional ability is of the highest, and whose personal reputations are without blame or blemish. Judge Field has always stood in this community for what is best in a man and a Judge. Judge Miller, Judge Gordon and Judge Muir have already exhibited their fitness, while Mr. Kirby presents a fine record as lawyer and County Attorney as a guarantee of his worth and worth. I was for a number of years in the office of Mr. Joseph Pryor and know how well qualified he is to serve this community as Judge of the Criminal Court. No one acquainted with Mr. Pryor can doubt either his integrity or intelligence, and the public is surely safe in placing the administration of the law in his hands. The State and city tickets appear to me as being all sufficient and satisfactory. I support the Democratic candidates as the surest way of promoting the general prosperity."

Patrick Bannon, the well known sewer pipe manufacturer, said: "I have voted the Democratic ticket for fifty-five years and expect to continue to vote it, because I believe the Democratic party is the party of the people. The present State and city nominees are good men and will work on the lines laid down by Democratic national leaders. Mayor Grainger and the city administration have given us a good Democratic government."

James A. Ross, the grocer at Eighth and St. Catherine streets, and a prominent Democratic worker in the Ninth ward, said: "It looks like easy sailing for the Democratic ticket. The workingmen realize that the Democratic party is the party for them. Democracy gives equal rights to all, and the present Democratic candidates will see that this policy is carried out."

Frank B. Murphy, President of Mackin Council, Young Men's Institute, said: "I am for the Democratic ticket all the way through because it is made up of good men. It should receive the support of every voter who believes in the equal rights of all before the law regardless of their creed."

George J. Butler, the grocer and State Treasurer of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, said: "I think the ticket an excellent one and it should receive the support of all fair-minded people. The men nominated are representative and capable citizens, each qualified for the office to which he aspires and free from bias and prejudice."

Patrick T. Sullivan, County President of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, said: "I am for the whole Democratic ticket. I think Gov. Beckham has fulfilled all the promises he made when he was a candidate before. I also believe the other nominees are capable men. Many of them have held office and have carried out a Democratic policy in the administration of affairs."

Michael Sheehan, the grocer at Nineteenth and Portland avenue, said: "I have been voting the Democratic ticket thirty-four years and I think it is now more important than ever that the Democratic party should win. It is the only party that has treated us fairly. I approve the course taken by the Kentucky Irish American in this campaign."

John J. Sullivan, Sr., the cigar dealer at the Willard Hotel and Todd building, said: "I am a Democrat because I believe in Democratic principles, religious liberty and the greatest good of all the people. I think Gov. Beckham and the other State and local nominees will carry out the policy of the Democratic party."

Martin Cusick, the popular tailor, said: "You can say the Eleventh ward will set the pace and give the Democratic nominees the greatest majority of any ward in the city."

THRIFTY IRISH

Constitute the Bone and the Sinew of Mt. Sterling's Population.

Mt. Sterling is one of the many cities in Kentucky where people of the Irish race have found peace and prosperity. Nestling among the hills of Eastern Kentucky, it numbers several men of Irish birth among its prominent and substantial citizens. It is one of the oldest towns in the State and from its first settlement Irishmen have been prominently identified with its interests.

Among its former prominent citizens was the father of William B. O'Connell, the present Circuit Clerk of Montgomery county. The elder Mr. O'Connell is long since dead. His son, the present Circuit Clerk, has been prominently identified with Montgomery county politics either as Deputy or Circuit Clerk during the last seventeen years, and is highly regarded in Democratic State councils. He was a few months ago a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, but withdrew in favor of Morgan Chinn. In the event of the latter's election he will be his chief deputy.

Another good citizen of Mt. Sterling is F. C. Laughlin, who, well proud of his Irish birth and lineage, is none the less a good citizen of Kentucky.

Mt. Sterling has a Catholic church, St. Patrick's, and of the sixty-five Catholic families sixty-three are Irish. They are all thrifty, law-abiding people and are thoroughly identified with the interests of the community. An Irishman owns the principal hotel, while others are engaged in mercantile and agricultural pursuits.

St. Patrick's church is a handsome brick edifice, and is in charge of Father L. DeWaegeuere, who is an indefatigable worker and popular with all classes in that section. Some years ago a flourishing council of the Young Men's Institute existed in the parish. For some unknown reason it went out of existence, but as the charter still remains there an effort will soon be made to reorganize.

DREAD DEATH

Closes the Promising Career of Well Known German-American.

William H. Rapp, paying teller of the German Insurance Bank and a young man highly respected both in business and German-American social circles, died at the family residence, 1929 Brook street, on Sunday morning. Mr. Rapp contracted typhoid fever five weeks before and it was thought had passed the crisis, when a relapse set in and he sank steadily until the end. The funeral took place from St. Mary Magdalen's church on Tuesday morning and was attended by a large concourse of sorrowing friends.

The deceased was the son of Edmund Rapp, assistant cashier of the German Insurance Bank. William H. Rapp was born and raised in this city and graduated from St. Xavier's College when he was seventeen years old. He at once entered the German Insurance Bank in an inferior capacity, but gradually arose until he was made paying teller, the position he held at the time of his death. Five years ago Mr. Rapp married Miss Alma Davis, a popular Cincinnati girl, who with two children, aged three and one year respectively, survive him. Although deservedly popular, Mr. Rapp was not a member of any societies or clubs. His death has brought sorrow to a wide circle of friends, many of whom will miss his generous charity.

NEW INDUSTRY

The Hope Worsted Mills Will Give Employment to Many.

The Hope Worsted Mills, on Kentucky street, between Logan and Swan, will be completed about December 1. These mills will prove a very desirable addition to Louisville's manufacturing, and when they begin operations will give work to 100 additional girls. Charles F. Murphy, the President of the company, is a Boston man, while John T. Moore, the Treasurer, is a citizen of Louisville. The building now in course of erection was designed by Murphy & Bros., the well known architects. The Hope Worsted Mills is on the whole an Irish-American enterprise. The new building when completed will be well lighted and ventilated and thoroughly equipped with the latest machinery for the manufacture of worsted fabrics. Gifts desirous of working in the new mills will apply to the present mills at Logan and Mason streets.

CATHOLIC FEDERATION.

The Right Rev. Bishop Messmer, of Green Bay, Wis., has accepted an invitation to address the Federation of Catholic Societies of Milwaukee on December 6. Bishop Messmer has taken a great interest in the federation movement and his forthcoming address is anxiously awaited.

CONFIRMATIONS.

The Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey spent this week in Grayson county confirming classes at St. Augustine's at Grayson Springs, St. Paul's at Big Clifty, and St. Benedict's at Wax. The two latter are missions under the charge of Father Havelburg.

NEW PRIOR

Noted Dominican in Charge of St. Louis Bertrand's Church.

The Very Rev. Father Raymond Volz, O. P., Duly Installed.

Well Known as a Teacher and Writer on Ecclesiastical Subjects.

SUCCESSOR TO REV. FATHER FOWLER

The people of St. Louis Bertrand's congregation, while regretting the departure of the Very Rev. Father Fowler, have reason to congratulate themselves since such an able man as the Very Rev. Father Volz, O. P., has been chosen to be his successor. The new prior, Father Raymond Volz, was duly installed at St. Louis Bertrand's convent on Monday in the presence of the Very Rev. Provincial Father L. F. Keeney, O. P., and all the members of the community—the Rev. Fathers Martin, Heagan, McFeeley, Lawler, Dunn and Twobig.

Father Volz is a native of Minnesota and received his early education in that State. His higher studies were prosecuted in Europe at the Universities of Louvain and Vienna. While at the University of Louvain he was a fellow-student of Rev. Father M. L. Heagan, O. P., who is now associated with him as one of his assistants in St. Louis Bertrand's parish. Father Volz was also ordained in Europe. When he returned to America he was brought to St. Rose's Convent, near Springfield, Ky., where he has been teaching the Dominican students for the priesthood during the last few years. He has been professor of literature and philosophy, and in addition for several years past has been sub-prior of St. Rose convent. During his spare moments he has written for a number of Catholic magazines and periodicals and has established quite a reputation as a writer on ecclesiastical and historical subjects. He has recently published a new book on the Third Order Tertiaries and is now engaged on several other works.

Although he has been a teacher ever since his ordination ten years ago, Father Volz is admirably fitted in training for parish work. He is known as an able and eloquent pulpit orator and has frequently preached at St. Louis Bertrand's church, so that he is not a total stranger to his new charge. Under his wise administration it is believed that St. Louis Bertrand's parish will make great strides, as it has done under his predecessor.

Father Volz is now at St. Rose's convent arranging his effects prior to their transfer to Louisville. He will return and assume charge of his parish in about two weeks. Meanwhile the Very Rev. Father Martin, O. P., will continue to act as prior.

The Very Rev. Father Fowler, O. P., who has just completed his term as prior, is now visiting his mother in New York. As yet he has not been assigned to any mission.

During the three years Father Fowler officiated at St. Louis Bertrand's he was a zealous and successful worker, and to his efforts alone are due many of the improvements made in that time. While the church debt has been considerably reduced under his administration nothing was left undone that would add to the appearance of that house of God, which many regard as the most beautiful in the city. Not the least important of his works was the remodeling of the school building and the erection of Bertrand Hall.

PRODIGAL SON

Subject of Mr. Fitzgerald's Lecture to Mackin Council.

Mackin Council, Young Men's Institute, inaugurated its series of fall and winter lectures at the club house, 530 Twenty-sixth street, on Tuesday night. Alderman James J. Fitzgerald was the orator of the evening. All routine business was hurriedly dispatched to give the members a chance to hear the lecture. One new application was received.

Mr. Fitzgerald told the story of the prodigal son and from it drew lessons for the guidance of Catholic young men of the present day. His address was delivered in his fluent style, beautifully worded and abounded with brilliant periods. It was listened to with attention and was liberally applauded.

The fall series of lectures given by Mackin are meeting with success and will continue to be held every Thursday until Advent.

DEATH OF A FRANCISCAN.

The Rev. Brother Didicus Aeder, O. S. F., died at the Franciscan Convent, corner Shelby and Green streets, on Sunday morning. Brother Didicus was sixty-seven years old and had been a member of the Franciscan order for forty years. Death resulted from gastric cancer. For a number of years past Brother Didicus was Sacristan of St. Boniface's church, from whence the funeral took place on Tuesday morning.

OUR POSITION.

The Kentucky Irish American was established a little more than five years ago and from the outset has been devoted to the best interests of its multitude of readers and supporters in Kentucky and elsewhere. It has never insisted upon forcing its political ideas upon others, but whenever the occasion demands the Kentucky Irish American will tell the people what it thinks best for their interests. One of these occasions is at hand. On next Tuesday the electors of this city and State will be called upon to elect their legislative, judicial and executive officers. Two great parties have nominated candidates for each of the many offices—the Democratic and Republican parties. You are the electors. You are to be governed by men of your own choice. Will you select the Republican candidates or the Democratic candidates? That is your business.

The Kentucky Irish American prefers the Democratic ticket because it is the party that has ever been the friend of the masses, of the workmen and the oppressed; because it has ever fought religious intolerance; because it advocates equal rights to all and exclusive privileges to none; because it has nominated for State and municipal offices a set of men whose future actions can be judged from their past record.

Another reason for supporting the Democratic ticket at this time is that we believe the election of the Republican nominees would be a calamity, as they are to a very large extent men who would close all avenues to public preferment against those who do not coincide with their narrow religious views. Such being the case we believe our position will receive general endorsement.

LESSON EMIGRATION.

The Hon. John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists in British Parliament, has added his protest to those of Michael Davitt and members of the Irish hierarchy against emigration. Mr. Redmond points out the fact that Irish youths and maidens are lured from home to the United States by stories of easy work at fabulous wages. How often are their hopes blighted when they land in America and find themselves unsuited to the conditions? They find their people crowded into disease-breeding tenement buildings and working for starvation wages. It is then that they are sorry they ever left the dear old land. The great majority have not the money to go to the Far West and purchase farms and ninety-nine times out of a hundred they would not understand the farming conditions. Farming in Ireland and farming in America are two very different things. The Irish farmers eventually make good American farmers, but they only succeed after years of patience and experience.

Of course Mr. Redmond can not stop Irish emigration. Neither can the Catholic hierarchy of Ireland, but they can reduce it to a minimum.

SOCIAL UNREST.

There seems to be in certain quarters a great feeling of unrest and distrust owing to unsettled labor conditions. Of course this condition is bad for the capitalist, but it is equally bad for the wage earner. Labor unions have as much right to exist as trusts formed by capitalists, but no labor union has a right to work evil on employers any more than employers have a right to oppress their employees. Every man, according to our constitution, "has a right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." The so-called Socialism of the present, day instead of making one man treat another as a brother, is teaching its blind followers to be dissatisfied with the condition of affairs and will in the end lead only to anarchy.

The only true Socialism is that of the golden rule: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." This lesson was taught mankind by the Divine Savior. Until employer and employee agree to work according to this divine precept there will be social unrest and dissatisfaction.

The capitalists are not wholly to blame in opposing unions; neither are the unions to be blamed as a whole because a few grasping individuals use their power to promote strikes and dissatisfaction. Until the laborer is paid the proper wages, and until the workingman does a full day's work, will the employer and employee continue to antagonize each other.

GOOD TIMES IN LOUISVILLE.

While Chicago appears to be suffering from strikes and in other places manufactories are shutting down and throwing men out of employment, Louisville is enjoying unparalleled prosperity. There are very few idle men in Louisville, and those who are idle are either ill or do not care to work. In fact labor is in demand here, not only in the trades but for street work. This surely indicates that Louisville is well governed, that her people are well paid and happy. More than that we are having ideal weather for this time of the year, which allows outdoor work to continue, while elsewhere floods and snows have put a stop to public improvements.

The prosperity of Louisville has not been spasmodic this year. On the contrary, it has been steady. New buildings are going up continually, new streets are being made and old ones reconstructed. It is to be hoped that these favorable conditions will continue for many years to come.

The latest reverend crank to bid for notoriety is Marie St. C. Wright, of New York, who advocates putting incurable people to death. This professed minister of the gospel forgets the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill." If God intends people to be incurably afflicted He will remove them from earth at His own good time. No one has a right to kill another, even in the "humane" manner mentioned by Mr. Wright.

The tremendous outpouring of the people to greet Gov. Beckham and the other Democratic nominees on Wednesday night shows that the majority of the people of Louisville favor liberty of conscience and abhor government by injunction.

GOLDEN JUBILEE

Of Corner-Stone Blessing Celebrated at St. Martin's.

The demonstration last Sunday in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the blessing of the corner-stone of St. Martin's church was not only creditable, but surpassed all expectations. The church was tastefully decorated with the Papal colors both inside and out, while myriads of electric lights gave the altars and sanctuary a gorgeous effect.

The Right Rev. Monsignor Zahler celebrated solemn high mass at 10 o'clock, the Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey occupying a throne in the sanctuary. Monsignor Zahler was assisted by the Very Rev. Fathers Paul Alf and Louis Ohle as deacons of honor, the Very Rev. Father Leo Greulich as deacon, and the Rev. Father Jerome Prosper as sub-deacon. The Very Rev. Fathers Cronin and Dumovich were deacons of honor to the Bishop. The Rev. Fathers Berresheim and Thome were first and second masters of ceremonies respectively. The festival sermon was preached by the Rev. Father Holweck, of St. Xavier's church, St. Louis. The choir directed by Prof. Bernard Dentinger and assisted by a complete orchestra rendered Wiegand's mass.

In the afternoon the men and boys of St. Martin's congregation took part in a grand street parade. All of the local branches of the Catholic Knights of America, and Louisville, New Albany and Jeffersonville companies of the Roman Knights of St. John joined in the parade. Thomas J. Gensle, of the well known firm of Gensle Bros., at Shelby and Gray streets, was grand marshal. So well did he have affairs in hand that the procession was ready to start promptly on time and covered the route in the exact time allotted.

The street parade passed in front of the church and out Shelby to Broadway, east to Logan, south to Breckinridge, to Jackson, to Green, to Clay, to Chestnut, to Campbell, to Shelby and Gray, where the marchers entered the church and attended vespers.

On entering the church the men were preceded by fifty little girls dressed in white and gold and half a hundred star boys appropriately uniformed. After the men who had taken part in the procession were admitted the public was allowed to enter, but so great was the crowd that hundreds were unable to gain admittance. After vespers an appropriate sermon was preached by Monsignor Zahler. Benediction of the most blessed sacrament followed, after which all present joined in singing the Te Deum.

GREAT THINGS

Promised to Result From Catholic Knights and Ladies' Eucire.

The eucire to be given at Phoenix Hill Park on the afternoon and evening of November 9, under the auspices of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, promises to be a mammoth affair. The ladies and gentlemen who are arranging the affair are leaving no stone unturned to make it a success. The object is to assist in raising funds for the entertainment of the delegates to the national convention of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, which is to be held in Louisville next year.

Among those who are working for the success of the coming eucire are Miss Mary Sheridan, Mrs. Mary Foley, Thomas Keenan, Pat Sullivan, Charles Breckel, James Coleman and others. They have secured 100 handsome, costly and useful prizes. It is estimated that not less than 1,000 persons will take part in the evening game. Of course the attendance at the afternoon game is not expected to be as large, but many ladies will be present then who will be unable to attend the evening game.

ROYAL WELCOME

Given the State Officers and Visitors by the Hibernians of Covington.

The Covington Division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians held a very large and interesting meeting Wednesday night, State President Keenan and State Secretary William T. Meehan of Louisville were in attendance and witnessed the initiation of thirty-five candidates. Division 6, of Cincinnati, also sent a large delegation to the initiation and the entertainment that followed the exemplification of degree work filled out an enjoyable evening.

President Donnelly presided and hurriedly dispatched all routine business, after which the famed degree team of Cincinnati Division, No. 6 assumed charge and exemplified the degree work. The degree team was composed of Thomas Murphy, Sr., Oracle; Ed Mugavin, Bard; Thom as Murphy, Jr., Patri claus; James Kelly, Grand Guide; John Fox, Scribe.

The degree work was impressive throughout, Mr. Murphy, as Patriarch, winning particular praise for his part. Following the initiation James Broderick, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, took charge of the meeting. He called upon Thomas Murphy, Jr., for a recitation, which was given in splendid style. State President Keenan then made a brief address on the condition of the order in Kentucky. During the interim that followed refreshments were served. State Secretary Meehan next made a brief talk on the affairs of the order. Mr. Broderick followed with a song, and was followed in turn with a brief talk from Frank M. Tracy. Next came a song by Mr. McElroy. Mr. Kelley, of Division 6, Cincinnati, made a speech full of humor. Judge M. T. Shine complimented the entertainment committee on the excellence of its work and thanked State President Keenan and State Secretary Meehan for their presence. Mr. Dunphy followed with a pleasing recitation. President Thomas Murphy, of Division 6, Cincinnati, followed with a short but interesting talk. During the evening refreshments were furnished in abundance, and both the Cincinnati and Louisville visitors were made to feel at home.

TONY THE CONVICT.

May be Repeated for the Benefit of the Catholic Knights of America.

The Entertainment Committee of the Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America met at Attorney Newton G. Rogers, office Friday night of last week and settled nearly all outstanding bills.

Several members of the committee suggested that the recent successful dramatic performance be repeated. It was pointed out that "Tony the Convict" had made such a favorable impression that it would bear repetition. Messrs. Ben Speaker and Michael Reichert will be asked to gather their forces and give another performance between now and Christmas, preferably on Thanksgiving night. If the time is agreeable and the performers are willing an effort will be made to secure St. Martin's school hall for the performance. No definite steps will be taken in the matter until Messrs. Speaker and Reichert are heard from.

Above will be found the ballot for the Kentucky Irish American World's Fair Contest, which will appear every week. Save them and vote for your friends. PARALYSIS

Causes the Death of Ex-Policeman
 Patrick J. Raidy on Thursday.

Patrick J. Raidy, an old and respected citizen of Louisville, died at the family residence, 2538 West Main street, Thursday morning, after an illness of eight days. On Wednesday evening of last week Mr. Raidy was stricken with paralysis. He retained consciousness till the following day. From then on he sank slowly and steadily into eternal sleep. The end came very peacefully. Mr. Raidy died surrounded by his family, but unconscious. He had received the last sacraments of the church on the night after the day he was stricken. Mr. Raidy was born in the County Clare, Ireland, fifty-six years ago and came to America with his family when quite a small boy. For more than forty years he had been a resident of Louisville. He learned the trade of molder and for years was employed at Avery & Sons' plow factory. In 1888 Mr. Raidy was appointed a member of the police force and served with credit in all sides during the past two weeks, several of our candidates have made favorable gains. Dan McKenna now has the lead in the married men's race. He has 1,412 votes to his credit, while John H. Hennessey has a strong hold on second place with 1,350. The other married men are closely bunched and several of them promise to overtake the leaders ere long.

Lieut. Tom Fitzgibbons continues to lead the single men, with 2,700 votes to his credit. Frank McDonough, though he started later than Lieut. Fitzgibbons, is in second place with 1,402 votes, and is coming strong. Tom Camfield, Jr., shows up this week with 200 votes and promises to make it interesting for the leaders. No change is apparent in the single ladies' contest, although several of them are working quietly and expect to spring a surprise at the proper time.

Please remember the race is yet young and that it is open to all, irrespective of creed and nationality. The Kentucky Irish American offers a trip to the St. Louis World's Fair next year to the most popular married couple, to the most popular single man and to the most popular single lady. This means railroad transportation to St. Louis and a week at the Lindell Hotel, one of St. Louis' highest class hostilities. The test of popularity, as previously announced, is the number of votes which are cast through the Kentucky Irish American. Each dollar paid in entries up to fifty votes, whether it is paid by a new or old subscriber. Besides ballots are printed in the paper each week. Get your friends to work and win the trip. The standing of the contestants at present is as follows:

NEW MEMBERS

Taken Into the Hibernian Fold
 by Division 4 Wednesday Night.

Division 4, Ancient Order of Hibernians, met Wednesday night with a fair attendance. The Democratic meeting at the Auditorium attracted many who would otherwise have been present. President John Hennessey occupied the chair. The principal event of the meeting was the initiation of six candidates—Dr. Thomas H. Mulvey, Dr. Frank Norton, Mike O'Keefe, James Costello, John Niland and Will Woertz. The initiation was carried out in the usual good style of No. 4's degree team. A communication was read from the Jefferson County Federation of Catholic Societies inviting the members to attend the eucharie to be given on November 19. Tickets for this eucharie can be secured from any member of Division 4.

The visiting Committee reported that Harry Kerr and Martin McNally had recovered from the effect of recent accidents. Mrs. Zorn transmitted a letter of thanks for the kind treatment given her son, Ben Zorn by the members of Division 4 since he was injured about three months ago. With the addition of the candidates initiated on Wednesday night Division 4 has 293 members, and is the banner division in the State. Besides there are a number of applicants yet to be acted upon.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Martin Hibbitt, one of the Louisville Railway Company's oldest and best known employees, who was injured in an accident at Fifth and Market streets on October 3, is able to be out, although he has not sufficiently recovered to resume his duties. Mr. Hibbitt has been twenty-one years with the Louisville Railway Company. At the time the accident occurred Mr. Hibbitt was in charge of a north-bound car on Fifth street. His car was struck by a Story avenue car bound east. To those who witnessed the accident from the street it looked like the motorman on the Story avenue car made no attempt to shut off the current and apparently did not see the other. No blame has been attached to Mr. Hibbitt, as the accident was clearly no fault of his.

ABBOT OBRECHT'S LETTER.

The Right Rev. Edmund M. Obrecht, Abbot of the Gethsemane monastery, who has been in Europe during the past two months, writes to Michael Herrman, of this city, that he will return home about November 15. Before he returns Abbot Obrecht will have an audience with His Holiness Pope Pius X. During his stay in Europe Father Obrecht has visited the various Trappist monasteries and will report their condition to his superiors and to the authorities in Rome.

NEW HONORS

Are Said to Be in Store For Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia.

Newspaper dispatches this week state that the Most Rev. Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, will be named as Cardinal at the next public consistory in Rome. While this announcement can not be vouched for as authentic, it is neither impossible nor improbable.

Cardinal Gibbons, on his return from Rome a few weeks ago, stated that a new American Cardinal was a probability. It is well known that his Holiness Pope Pius X. consulted with Cardinal Gibbons on the church in the United States. It is also well known that Cardinal Gibbons holds Archbishop Ryan in high regard, and that if he were asked to make another Cardinal he would probably select the Archbishop of Philadelphia.

Archbishop Patrick John Ryan celebrated his golden sacerdotal jubilee only a few weeks ago. He was consecrated Bishop in 1872 and made coadjutor to Archbishop Keurick, of St. Louis. In 1884 he was made Archbishop of Philadelphia. The Catholic population of the archdiocese is about 475,000. Archbishop Ryan is held in high regard by all classes, and if he is created Cardinal it will be a fitting tribute to his worth.

SOCIAL MEETING

When Hibernians Will Entertain New Members and Ladies.

Division I, Ancient Order of Hibernians, held a well attended meeting Tuesday night. President Mike Tynan was in the chair, and all the officers were present save Treasurer Walsh. It was decided to oblige a number of candidates at the next meeting. The initiation will be held at the last meeting in November. An invitation to attend the Federation eucharie was received and accepted. None were reported on the sick list. The members decided to hold a social meeting on Tuesday, December 8. This social meeting will be given in honor of the new members. An invitation will be extended to the Ladies' Auxiliary to attend this social meeting and reception. Newton G. Rogers, the attorney, was to have delivered an address to the members of Division I, but owing to the press of business was unable to speak Tuesday. Instead he will speak at the social meeting in December. Messrs. William M. Higgins, Joseph Dougherty and John M. Mulloy were appointed members of the Employment Committee.

LARGE CLASS

Of Candidates to Be Initiated by Local Council Knights of Columbus.

A class of fifty candidates will be initiated by the Louisville Council, Knights of Columbus, on Sunday afternoon, November 8. Delegations will come from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Tennessee to assist at in the initiatory ceremonies. A banquet will follow the initiation at which between 300 and 400 Knights will be entertained.

The majority of those to be initiated at the coming meeting are residents of Louisville, though a few of them are from outlying towns and cities. Since the Louisville Council was established in this city about four years ago the Knights of Columbus have made great strides. Among its members are many of Louisville's leading business and professional men.

MAY BE ARCHBISHOP.

Promotion Promised For Right
 Reverend John J. Glennon.

According to the latest advices from Rome the Right Rev. John J. Glennon, Bishop of Kansas City and Coadjutor to the late Archbishop Kain, will become Archbishop of St. Louis in fact at the next consistory. Bishop Glennon is thoroughly familiar with the affairs of the archdiocese. He was consecrated Titular Bishop of Piner in 1896, with residence in Kansas City, as coadjutor to the Right Rev. Bishop Hogan. A year ago when Archbishop Kain's ill-health compelled him to ask for aid, Bishop Glennon was made his coadjutor. Bishop Glennon is the National Chaplain of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and Hibernians are very proud of the honors that appear to be in store for their chief spiritual adviser.

What with bad cooks, breakfast foods, the American habit of bolting the food, etc., the modern stomach has a hard time of it. For relief for yours try some really good, old-fashioned bread, "like mother used to make"—viz., MOTHER'S BREAD—made of plain, straight, pure flour. INSIST on getting IT, and not other kind. And save the BLUE LABELS, they're good for some nice chins.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Regular meeting of Division 3 Monday night.

Kentucky will soon have another good division.

The idea of holding Sunday meetings has been abandoned by Division 1 of Duluth.

Tom Dolan's suggestion to assist the widow and orphan meets with general approval.

Members out of employment should make it known to the Employment Committee of their division.

Division 9 of Minneapolis held its twelfth annual ball on Thursday evening. More than 300 couples were in attendance.

Division 2 of Sheldahl, Minn., recently initiated a large class. The State degree team from St. Paul exemplified the work.

During November every division of the order in Minneapolis will hold memorial services for the repose of the souls of deceased members.

Seumas McManus, the gifted Irish author and lecturer, will speak at an entertainment to be given by Milwaukee Hibernians on March 17.

Arrangements are being made by Providence divisions for a joint exemplification of the four degrees on a class of forty candidates on November 8.

Division 8 of Springfield, Mass., entertains its friends with two dances each season. The first one, held this month, was attended by about 700.

Rhode Island Hibernians have called a special State convention to deal with the troubles which have arisen in Pawtucket and the suspension of the mother division of that section.

Members of Division 12 of Providence were agreeably surprised at their last meeting by receiving fourteen propositions for membership. Six other candidates were initiated.

Division 1 of Milwaukee is arranging to organize a uniformed rank company of Hibernian Knights. As a consequence the society has been given fresh impetus, thirty new members having been initiated since the announcement was made and thirty-seven applications are to be acted upon.

John E. Browne, the grocer at Twelfth and Zane streets, whose name has frequently been mentioned for office, says of the present campaign: "I am a Democrat because the Democratic party has always been fair in its treatment of our people. Whenever the Democratic party has been in power in the city or State it has given employment at fair wages and has treated the Irish-American and the German-American as well as it has the native born. Of course this is Democratic doctrine, but I am glad to say the Kentucky Democratic leaders practice what they preach."

In a communication to members of the order in Minnesota the State officers announce that 1,600 new members have been secured since the last State convention. As an inducement to secure additional members prizes have been offered to those who will bring in new members.

To the individual who will secure before March 17 sixty new members a trip to the World's Fair at St. Louis is promised, with expenses not to exceed $75 paid.

For forty members a $50 trip is promised and for twenty new members a $25 trip to the fair is offered. Prizes are also offered to the divisions that initiate the greatest number of insured members between now and March 17.

MACAULEY'S.

Blanche Walsh, one of the most renowned actresses on the American stage, will appear at Macauley's Theater Monday night in Tolstoi's "Resurrection."

As Katusha Miss Walsh has a part admirably suited to her. On Tuesday night Joseph Jefferson will present his old but ever new "Rip Van Winkle." The "Little Princess" will fill out the rest of the week with Saturday matinee.

MASONIC THEATER.

The famously funny "Mr. Dooley," the humorous hero of tuneful song and witty story, comes to the Masonic next week in the guise of the funniest musical farce comedy seen in years. It already has been lifted into the highest hit sent out from New York this season. Fifty people and a big chorus stacked with pretty women bring the prettiest gems of song into the most pleasant prominence, and the performance fairly sparkles with the brightest fun.

BUCKINGHAM.

Reilly & Woods' big spectacular vaudeville company will be the attraction at the Buckingham Theater next week. Of course the inimitable Pat Reilly will be one of the principal entertainers. In the olio will be the Orpheus Comedy Four, Nat Le Roy, George and Lilla Brennan, Craig and Ardell, Emily Besure, and Bonita with her Cuban and African midgits. Two unusual travesties introduced the entire company will complete the programme. The usual matinees will be given.

HOPKINS.

Crowded houses greeted the vaudeville stars at the Hopkins' Theatre at each performance this week. Next week the management promises another batch of stellar attractions, including the Lavine-Cameron Trio, peerless comedians; Howard and Bland, in a musical comedy sketch; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waterous, original entertainers; Lizzie B. Raymond, the vivacious comedienne; Castellani and Hall, in "A Friend from Wall Street;" Frank O'Brien, comedian and acrobat; George Schindler, the premier harmonica player, and the biograph with new pictures. Matinees are given every day.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

Arthur McClintosh, of Dublin, has been appointed Public Trustee under the new Irish land act.

Glennville Castle, County Antrim, the seat of Baronet Daniel Dixon, was almost totally destroyed by fire.

Andrew Carnegie has offered to give $10,000 toward the erection of a free library at Rathkeale, County Limerick.

During a recent storm which swept over Rineen nine boats, all open fishing yawls, were washed away and wrecked.

Brother Norris, of the De La Salle Order, was drowned at Tranmore. His body was washed ashore near Waterford.

The Very Rev. Canon Mannix has been appointed to succeed the late Monsignor Gargan as President of Maynooth College.

IRELAND.

The tenants on several large estates in the County Limerick have met and decided to ask on what condition they could purchase their holdings.

The first sale under the new land act in the County Waterford is that of the estate of Capt. J. O'Neill Power, who has practically closed with his Williamstown tenants at twenty years' purchase.

Patrick Cotter, a young farm laborer of Drishreen, lost his right hand while at work on a threshing machine. While the surgeons were dressing the injured member the unfortunate man died as a result of the shock.

Mrs. Michael Donovan, fifty years old and the wife of a respected farmer near Skibbereen, lost her way during a storm, fell into the river and was drowned. Her body was recovered several days later. The deceased left several children in America.

Michael Keane, a well-to-do and highly respected farmer of Duffcarrick, County Waterford, was found dead in his fields. The deceased was noted for dispensing charity in a practical manner during bad times. He leaves a widow and several grown children.

Devlin, the Galway member of British Parliament, is urging the Government officials of the Dominion of Canada to adopt the city of Galway as a British port for fast Atlantic steamships. He points out that Galway, being 400 miles nearer than Liverpool, a saving of twenty-four hours would be effected.

Richard Gregory, a fisherman, found five swords of ancient and exquisite workmanship on the coast near Cuskiny recently. A few days before that he dug up a number of swords and guns. He continues to dig, as he is impressed with the idea that there is other treasure besides guns and swords hidden in the same place.

At a recent conference of Ulster farmers held at Belfast the benefit of the new land act to Ulster was considered. The Hon. T. W. Russell, M. P., was the principal speaker. He announced that conventions would be held in twelve agricultural constituencies in Ulster before Christmas to select candidates for the general election.
